

Robin Wauters – Biography

Robin Wauters is a seasoned technology and media entrepreneur, ex-journalist, analyst, keynote speaker and event curator, with a wealth of knowledge about the European startup and investment ecosystem(s). He's currently an executive advisor at Sirris working on the ScaleUp Flanders scale-up acceleration program, COO and board member at the European Startup Network and a co-driver of the EU-INC initiative.

Robin is also a founding member of Belgian angel investment collective and early-stage fund Syndicate One, a co-founder of BeCentral, a digital campus located in Brussels, and the founder of boutique strategic communications advisory firm Profoundo. Robin was a co-founder and formerly CEO of Tech.eu, the premier source of European tech news and market intelligence. He was previously the European Editor of The Next Web, and a senior editor at TechCrunch.